SOUTHERN PROTECTION INSURANCE COMPANY, ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA. CAPITAL OVER 350,000 DOLLARS,

AND CONSTANTLY INCREASING. The Charter of this Company offers more favorable advantages to the farmer and others, than any Company chartered in the State, by insuring with or without a premium note. If the applicant prefer, he can pay the full amount of the premium in each, or by effecting a cash insurance for two years, the insured saves one-eighth of the amount | 60 ets. he would otherwise have to pay; or by becoming a member, and giving a small premium note, the in-sured saves nearly one-half of the amount charged by Stock Companies, when insuring from year to year. This is the advantage resulting from the combination of the CASH AND MUTUAL PRINCIPLE. This Company commenced issuing Policies against loss or damage by fire, on the 13th day of March, 1854, since which time over seven thousand seven hundred persons have insured and become members of the Company, and over seventy thousand dollars have been paid for losses. Having increased our business during the past year, we feel grateful for the liberal patronage bestowed upen the Company thus far, and for its flattering pros-pects of future usefulness. The Directors hope and believe, that, by prudence, caution, and a rigid system of economy, they will establish for this Company a reputation for cheapness and safety not surpassed by any Company in the U. States. All differences in settlement of losses, may be determined by three disinterested arbitrators of the County where such loss happened, to be mutually chosen by the insured and the Company.

MISCELLANEOUS READING. [COMMUNICATED. WEEP! FOR YOUR COUNTRY WEEP!

Weep! grey haired Sires-your Country's fall is great, You sure have cause to be disconsolate! Her former majesty—her might and power, Array before you, and lament this hour!— Remember all her glory, how the sun Shone on a Nation, prosp'rous, happy, one! North, South, East, West, together fitly joined,

With ready aim, united she arose, To welcome friends, or quell presuming foes. Weep! grey haired Sires-remember Washington, Who by their native, well loved Country stood-Still through her struggles with undaunted front, Forgetting self, they bore the battle's brunt, Then soldiers, statesmen, orators, combined With force of arms, and all the pow'r of mind-Freedom to win-and long each well known name, Rights from one taken, were from all purloined!

Shall shine with lustre, on the book of fame. Weep! grey haired Sires-you well remember

Low in their honoured graves, all quiet lay-Unmindful of the strife, a Webster-Clay-With words of eloquence, they sought to bind The love of Union on a Nation's mind. But the great lesson was so lightly learned, The time has come, in which their teaching spurned, Faction bath raised her hand and struck the blow,

Your eyes looked forth upon a scene sublime. State upon State, as brothers, joined in love Blest upon earth, and smiled on from above, Peace, as a river, undisturbed flowed on-And in a time of peace your sons were born. Yes! for your Country weep! the world may mourn,

Weep! grey haired Sires-you knew a better time,

When the sad news, upon the breezes borne, To breathless, list'ning nations, shall disclose The story of our ruined Country's woes. Weep! stalwart men-be not ashamed to shed Tears-bitter tears-your Country's hope is dead; the Cruize of the U. S. Steam-frigate Powha- Peace stands, with weary heart, and look forlorn, And War, "grim visaged," girds his armor on-Impatient waits, to send his flery breath,

O'er all the land, and scatter ruin-death.

Is plain portray'd your Country's future doom, Torn by contention, ruined! lost! undone-Where shall strife end?-when once alas! begun Freedom, e'en now,' our own bright plumaged bird-Uneasy grown-upon her nest is stirred; When breaks the clash of arms upon her ear, And strife fraternal, she shall see and hear, Back to her haunts she'll fly-in last despair.

Where shall the smiling earth her praises sing? And sons be born, amid rejoicing. And bitter woe, shall wring each bleeding breast. Brothers, and Husbands, Sons-so fondly reared, Wild the contention! bitter is the hate! Which civil feuds and civil wars create, So hatred, jealousy, inspired a Cain

Weep! Mothers weep!-as our first parents wept Are ve thus doomed to look upon the day. When cause divided, decked in war array, Brothers, whom North and South alone divide, Their blood shall mingle in a gory tide. On your unwilling ear strange sounds shall break With the dread din which strife and warfare make, Shall mingle groans, and tears, and prayers too

Ascending-to avert impending fate. Then Mothers weep! and none will sure deride The grey haired man-or him of stalwart pride, Who to his Country, loved so well, so true, Shall, weeping, bid a long, a last adieu. Alas! her glory, honor, power, might, Have-like enchantment-pass'd from sight; To this sad time, then, surely tears belong-Yes: even from the wise, the brave, the strong,

Should we not weep, in long, in lost amaze,

And call from mem'ry's depths our better days!
